New Series from an Acclaimed Texas Author

At Love's Command HANGER'S HORSEMEN #1 by Karen Witemeyer

Minneapolis, MN—Voted the #1 Reader's Favorite Christian Romance Author of 2019 by Family Fiction Magazine in 2019, Karen Witemeyer is a top name in her genre. Her home of Texas is the setting for her historical romances, and many of her plots explore local history, from the rise of telegraphy stations across the state to the steamboats and pirates of Galveston.

Her latest release, At Love's Command, released in June 2020. Early reader reviews said, “It's filled with adventure and romance on a whole new level” and “I don't think a group of characters have ever captured my heart so quickly as Hanger's Horsemen.” The novel is the first in a three-book series following a band of ex-cavalry mercenaries who defend the innocent and seek justice for the oppressed. With cattle rustlers and a kidnapping, plus a feisty female doctor, blackmail, and gunfights, At Love's Command delivers everything a Western romance reader could want.

Karen's books have been honored with the HOLT Medallion and the Carol Award, and have been finalists for the RITA and Christy Award. Her previous books were praised for their “snappy, flirtatious repartee” (Library Journal), “plenty of drama and action, a smidgen of suspense and two main characters with perfect chemistry” (RT Book Reviews), and “skillful [incorporation of] redemption, worthiness, and new beginnings” (Booklist).

In her active Posse group on Facebook, Karen discusses historical fun facts and the reading life every day with 1,500 of her most active readers. She has also presented at libraries and writing conferences around the country on topics ranging from Texas history to reader-focused marketing. She blogs at Petticoats and Pistols with other Western authors and loves connecting with readers online and in person.
