1. Will you tell us more about your role with Christian International and what you're seeing in the ministry today?
2. Your previous book, Discernment, was teaching readers to discern the voice of God. In Declarations for Breakthrough, what is the next step for readers?
3. Where do we first see the power of the decree in Scripture?
4. How have you seen the power of God's voice at work in your ministry?
5. How can we start making declarations in our own lives and for our families?
6. You mention in your book that "we can control our lives by controlling how we think." Talk to us more about this. How does this reality relate to declarations?
7. When do our thought patterns start hurting instead of helping us? How might changing those patterns open our hearts to the fullness of God?
8. You also say in the book that our breakthrough has a sound. What does this look like in practice?
9. What hope can you share with the listener who thinks they cannot experience breakthrough?
10. Where can our audience go to connect with you and purchase a copy of Declarations for Breakthrough?
