1. Kim, you reference a quote at the start of the book from an African pastor: “The Holy Spirit is like a great and mighty river. You do not tell the river where to go. Instead, you jump into the river . . . and you go where He takes you.” How did you first come to know the Lord and step into this mighty river?
2. What keeps us from experiencing the wildness of God in our own lives?
3. You share some amazing stories in this book of God meeting you and leading you in ordinary places. You’ve brought His power and love to grocery stores, restaurants, even Goodwill. . . . How can we train ourselves to see and act on these divine opportunities in our daily lives?
4. You share an amazing encounter with a woman who had been sold in the satanic church and was days away from a life-ending choice. Tell us how the name of Jesus set her free.
5. There is so much suffering in our world today. We often ask why senseless things happen, and how God could have let them play out. But you write, “‘Senseless’ only exists on this side of heaven. God’s plan always makes sense to Him.” Talk about how we can trust His timing and plan during times of darkness and suffering.
6. We always need to be aware of our spiritual foe. You had a confrontation with a mountain lion in Colorado that morphed into a spiritual battle. Tell us that amazing story and how you came out of that encounter unharmed.
7. You write about the connection between worship and encountering the peace of God. How has that played out in your own life?
8. God uses many things to bring healing—including animals. You run a ranch for wounded horses and wounded children. He’s brought peace and joy through your ministry—tell us one or two stories from Crystal Peaks Youth Ranch.
9. Kim, give a charge to the Christian who has allowed other distractions to crowd out the voice and presence of Jesus.
10. If each Christian encountered the wildness of God, the church would be unstoppable in our mission! How can we set ourselves on the path of encountering His wildness today?
