1. In the book you share a range of experiences from your background, including your time in the LDS church, several demonic encounters and your deliverance experience. How did God use all of these to prepare you for your ministry of intercessory prayer?
2. In our fast-paced world, many Christians spend a miniscule amount of time each day in prayer. However, you say that “prayer is like breathing” and that it should be integrated into our lifestyle. What does it look like when we make our lives a living prayer?
3. What are some of the basics of prayer that Christians need to understand as they seek to go deeper with the ministry of prayer and intercession?
4. How did God use a weekly prayer service to transform the church where you and your husband minister?
5. You say, “The Bible is full of legislation, namely spiritual laws that govern our heaven-to-earth connection.” How will understanding our alignment with these spiritual laws help us to pray more effectively?
6. What are territorial spirits, and how can they affect what we experience in the physical realm?
7. Does God ever deploy His mighty invisible army of angels to be a part of intercessory work here on earth?
8. How does God use prophetic words and insights to inform and direct our intercession?
9. How can we use fasting to take our prayers and intercession to a whole new level?
10. How does God’s Word construct a framework inside our hearts and minds for discerning what’s possible in the spirit realm?
11. Many writers say that they are impacted and sometimes even dramatically changed over the course of writing a book. Was there anything significant for you that came out of this project?
12. When readers get to the final pages of The Intercessors Handbook, how do you hope their ongoing faith journey is impacted by what they’ve just learned?
13. Where can the listeners/viewers go online to find out more about The Intercessors Handbook?
