BOOK ANNOUNCEMENT

Delia Parr's Delightful Midwife Series Concludes

- This warm-hearted look at a small-town community is ideal for Jan Karon readers
- With Martha Cade, Parr offers a strong woman of faith with a heart for those in need
- Tells a tale of trusting God, even when the future seems unknowable

Midwife Martha Cade has decided. When he returns in February, she is going to marry Mayor Thomas Dillon. That is the only decision in life in which she feels confident these days. Everything else around her feels like it's changing too fast, from her daughter's obvious affection for the town's young doctor to Martha realizing she's ready to pass on her role as midwife to someone younger. Even her beloved town of Trinity is changing.

The 1830s Pennsylvania town, having mushroomed in size and population, is becoming an important agricultural and economic center for the region, and soon a canal will connect it even more to the outside world.

It is a season that will set the course for the rest of her life. Martha will need every ounce of confidence, courage, and faith she possesses to overcome the obstacles that will make her life far more challenging and difficult than she can dare to imagine.

“Parr’s splendidly wrought details of life in the 1830s, as well as her vivid descriptions of the life of a midwife, stir the reader’s imagination and compassion. With this stellar novel, Parr neatly concludes her excellent AT HOME IN TRINITY trilogy.”
