Established CBA Author Brings History and Romance to Life

- Miller’s approach to Americana historical romance highlights unique and interesting facets of history
- Mid-19th-century mill town setting, similar to popular BELLS OF LOWELL series cowritten with bestselling author Tracie Peterson
- “A well-constructed plot and believable characters demonstrate why Miller is popular with fans of historical fiction and romance.”—Library Journal starred review of The Brickmaker’s Bride

In 1850, Mellicent “Mellie” Blanchard takes a job at a mill in Manchester, New Hampshire, to help support her family. In search of additional earning opportunities, she approaches a daguerreotype shop owner with the proposal that he hire her to make paper cuttings or silhouette portraits for those who can’t afford an expensive daguerreotype.

When a particularly charming customer—whose broad smile and twinkling eyes catch her off guard—asks to escort her home, the seeds of romance begin to blossom. All the pieces of her new life seem to have fallen perfectly into place, but when her new venture brings her an unexpected opportunity, she is confronted with the truth that all is not as it seems. Will Mellie, who is keeping secrets of her own, find happiness in the new life she has carved out for herself in the busy mill town?
