Beloved Author Tracie Peterson Launches Exciting New Series

- One of the top names in Christian fiction, Peterson is a fixture on CBA bestseller lists
- New series takes readers to 1880s Seattle, Washington
- Rich historical detail, adventure, and romance resonate in Peterson's novels

Lenore Fulcher isn't pretentious despite her spoiled upbringing. Her deepest desire at the age of twenty is to find true love. However, her father believes she's wasted enough time searching for a suitable husband, and he wants to marry her off to one of his business partners—thirty-seven-year-old James Rybus. But the idea of marriage to a man so much older is out of the question for Lenore.

Kolbein Booth, a lawyer from Chicago, arrives in Seattle looking for his headstrong sister who he believes may have answered an advertisement for mail-order brides. Sick with worry, he storms the Madison Bridal School, demanding to see his sister, only to learn she isn't there. But Lenore Fulcher is, and something about her captures his attention.

Is this the man Lenore has been searching for? She may not have long to find out. . . .

“Peterson's second book in the historical series offers a well-crafted narrative and engaging characters.”
