1. As believers, we should desire to be nearer to God every day. So why is right now the best time for people to have this book in hand?
2. You refer to these historical moments of disaster in the Bible as “wakeup calls.” Would you say that the COVID-19 pandemic has been a wakeup call for the modern Christian? How so?
3. What evidence do we have that God is still in control in the midst of tragedies? And what can we say to someone who says that God caused a tragedy in their life?
4. What is “gaptivity”?
5. As we see tragic and devastating events on local and national news, we also can catch a glimpse of the local and global Church fighting evil. How is the Church operating to combat the darkness in today’s world? And how can we join that fight?
6. What would you say to people who feel isolated from others? What about from God?
7. How do we encourage those who have lost hope or struggle with faith because of their suffering?
8. In your book you talk about how our lives can go at such dizzying speeds that we sometimes leave God behind. Can you share what that looks like and how we can reorient ourselves to His presence?
9. What does glory mean in terms of “giving God the glory” or “glorifying His name”? How does that glory bring us closer to Him?
10. Wayman, thank you for sharing your insights on closing the gap between ourselves and God. Where can our audience go to connect with you and purchase their copy of Nearer to God?
